Cheap & Convenient Building. Door, Sash and Blind Factory, A. DUNBAR

HAS been very successful in completing several contracts for Door Frames, Doors, Window Frames, and Sashes, and Blinds, for good dwelling-houses and other buildings to be erected in this city, the coming season. He has excellent workmen in his employ, and has superior stock, so that he is now able to supply to those about to build the best articles of Door Frames, Window Frames, Sashes, and Blinds, made to any dimensions and of superior quality, either for a whole building or for a less quantity. The trouble and expense of building is very much lessened by having these articles made separately, so that the carpenters have only to put them in their place in the structure.

This business has now become so well systematized that only a small margin is left in knowing beforehand the cost of a dwelling-house, while the work is of a uniform excellent quality.

Any one interested can examine specimens of the work at the factory, near the Rose Place, or at the store of M. S. Jackson, on Exchange st., and at either place any article may be obtained or large quantities ordered.

Mr. Dunbar is also prepared to furnish Window Blinds ready painted, and will hang them at the shortest notice.

By long experience, and by determined perseverance, the subscriber is now enabled to suit his customers, both in quality and price, and so well organized is the business that no man should now think of building in the old and slow and imperfect methods. Bangor, Feb. 28, 1856.

PROFESSOR WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE

IS, no doubt, the most wonderful discovery of this age of progress, for it will restore, permanently, gray hair to its original color, cover the head of the bald with a most luxuriant growth, remove at once all dandruff and itching, cure all scrofula and other cutaneous eruptions, such as scald head, &c. It will cure, as if by magic, nervous or periodical headache; make the hair soft, glossy and wavy and preserve the color perfectly, and the hair from falling, to extreme old age.

St. Paul, January 21, 1855. Professor O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Unsolicited, I send you this certificate. After being nearly bald for a long time, and having tried all the hair restoratives extant, and having no faith in any, I was induced, on hearing of yours, to give it a trial. I placed myself in the hands of a barber, and had my head rubbed with a good stiff brush, and the Restorative then applied and well rubbed in, till the scalp was aglow. This I repeated every morning, and in three weeks the young hair appeared and grew rapidly from August last until the present time, and is new thick, black, and strong—soft and pleasant to the touch; whereas, before it was harsh and wiry, what little there was of it, and that little was disappearing very rapidly. I still use your restorative about twice a week, and shall soon have a good and perfect crop of hair. Now I have read of these things—and who has not?—but have not seen any case where any person's hair was really benefited by any of the hair tonics, &c., of the day; and it really gives me pleasure to record the result of my experience. I have recommended your preparation to others, and it already has a large and general sale throughout the territory. The people here know its effects, and daily inquiries are made for it. The supply you sent us, as wholesale agents for the territory, is nearly exhausted, and daily inquiries are made for it. You deserve credit for your discovery; and I, for one, return you my thanks for the benefit it has done me, for I certainly had despaired long ago of ever effecting any such result. Yours truly, J. W. BOND, Firm of Bond & Keller, Druggists, St. Paul.

[From the Editor of the Real Estate Advertiser.] Boston, 27 School Street, March 20, 1855. Dear Sir: Having become prematurely quite gray, I was induced, some six weeks since, to make a trial of your Restorative. I have used less than two bottles, but the gray hairs have all disappeared, and although my hair has not fully attained its original color, yet the process of change is gradually going on, and I am in great hopes that in a short time my hair will be as dark as formerly. I have also been much gratified at the healthy moisture and vigor of the hair, which before was harsh and dry, and it has ceased to come out as formerly. Respectfully yours, D. C. M. RUPP. Professor Wood.

Carlyle, Illinois, June 19, 1855. I have used Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its wonderful effect. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his "Restorative" it has resumed its original color, and I have, no doubt, permanently so. SIDNEY BREESE, Ex-Senator United States.

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY Of the Age.

Dr. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds, a remedy that cures

EVERY KIND OF HUMOR: From the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple.

He has tried it in over 1100 cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its virtue, all within twenty miles of Boston.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst cases of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Reader, I peddled over a thousand bottles of this in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effect of it in every case. So sure as water will extinguish fire, so sure will this cure humor. I never sold a bottle of it but that sold another; after a trial it always speaks for itself. There are two things about this herb that appear to me surprising; first, that it grows in our pastures, in some places quite plentiful, and yet its value has never been known until I discovered it in 1846—second, that it should cure all kinds of humor.

In order to give some idea of the sudden rise and great popularity of the discovery, I will state that in April, 1853, I peddled it, and sold about six bottles per day—in April, 1854, I sold over one thousand bottles per day of it.

Some of the wholesale Druggists who have been in business twenty and thirty years, say that nothing in the annals of patent medicines was ever like it. There is a universal praise of it from all quarters.

In my own practice I always kept it strictly for humors—but since its introduction as a general family medicine, great and wonderful virtues have been found in it that I never suspected.

Several cases of epileptic fits—a disease which was always considered incurable, have been cured by a few bottles. O, what a mercy if it will prove effectual in all cases of that awful malady—there are but few who have seen more of it than I have.

I know of several cases of Dropsy, all of them aged people, cured by it. For the various diseases of the Liver, Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side, Diseases of the Spine, and particularly in Diseases of the Kidneys, &c., the discovery has done more good than any medicine ever known.

No change of diet ever necessary—eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.—Adults one table spoonful per day—Children over ten years dessert spoonful—Children from five to eight years, tea spoonful. As no directions can be applicable to all constitutions, take sufficient to operate on the bowels twice a day.

The Principal Office for the State of Maine and the British Provinces, is at the Drug and Medicine Establishment of H. H. HAY, 15 & 17, Market Square, Portland, Maine; to whom all orders should be addressed. Sold by respectable Druggists throughout the United States and British Provinces.

PRICE $1.00.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

GARDNER CHILSON has just completed and patented in America, England, and France, his new invention—THE "CONE FURNACE"—and asks the special attention of those about erecting or remodelling buildings, as well as dealers in Hot Air, Steam or Hot Water Furnaces, and all interested in Steam Power, to carefully examine this invention, which entirely changes the principle and character of Hot Air Furnaces, developing another and a new principle, and obviating all former objections to their use. The practical operation of a number of these Furnaces, erected during the past winter, points out a new discovery in science by which the most wonderful economy in fuel has been obtained, and clearly demonstrates that the waste heat lost from chimneys is enough to warm every dwelling in the city. By this invention the heat formerly lost is made to warm the house.

This discovery, simple in itself—is the daily wonder of those who witness its results, and it becomes a matter of surprise that a plan so simple and so practical in its operation, should thus far have entirely escaped the notice of scientific men. We believe that no one who investigates this principle will be liable to use a Furnace constructed on any other principle, and we invite all who are intending to put in a Furnace to call and examine them at my store before deciding. The Annual Exhibition of the Bangor Horticultural Society

Opened yesterday afternoon at City Hall, and will be continued throughout to-day—closing this evening (Friday) with an auction sale of fruits.

The exhibition is very creditable, not only to the contributors, but to the Committee of Arrangements, who have had a just regard to the beautiful in the ordering of the display.

Taken together, the exhibition is much more satisfactory than that of last year, although the whole number of specimens is somewhat less. The deficiency of numbers is principally in the floral department, it being too late for many of the varieties; but there are some splendid specimens shown, and several magnificent boquets.

The show of grapes is about the best we have ever seen,—much exceeding that of last year, and showing a constant and gratifying improvement in that branch of culture. We observed one magnificent bunch of the Black Hamburg, which weighed 3½ lbs, and several splendid specimens by other contributors.

In plums there is a marked improvement over last year, both in number of specimens and varieties, and also in the perfection of the fruit. Still, the yield of plums has not been anything approaching to that of some former years. Much care appears to have been bestowed upon their trees, however, by our amateur horticulturists.

The show of pears is also much better than last year, according to our recollection. There are some splendid specimens of the more desirable varieties.

In apples the display is perhaps not so large in the number of specimens, but we think better in the quality and perfection of the fruit. One contributor shows 67 varieties, another 60, and a third 20 or 30. Many of the specimens are as beautiful fruit as we have ever seen anywhere.

We observed on one the tables a plate of peaches raised in a cold grapery in this city, which far surpass any western fruit brought to this market.

In the vegetable line there is a large show of mammoth squashes, cabbages, beets, and turnips, &c.,—including a monster "Fremont" squash,—and a great variety of curious and rare productions, too numerous to particularize.

Over the platform is raised the cornucopia of plenty, in a very beautiful design, bursting with the fruits of the season, surmounted with a basket of flowers in beautiful carved work by one of our mechanics, and just beneath, the whole being an exquisite head of Bacchus, carved by the same hand.

We have no space to go into the details of the exhibition as we would like to do; but must recommend all to go and see for themselves. The admission is only 12½ cents.

Rockland. In examining the returns from the different cities and towns in this State, of the votes given at the recent election, it is rather difficult to discriminate the "banner" town; especially, when all have done so nobly from Kittery to Quoddy Head. But we think the city of Rockland must bear the palm. Glorious old Rockland! Last year in a vote of 1207 there was a majority of 246 against the Republicans—this year in a vote of 1368 there is a majority for Hamlin of 398, making a gain of 513 over the vote of last year, and being more than fifty per cent. gain upon the whole of last year.

We do not know but some other place has done as well, but we have not yet discovered it, and therefore we say that to Rockland belongs the banner. All honor to the glorious Republicans of that city.—Portland Adv.

We say, also, all honor to Rockland and her glorious Republicans. The brilliancy of their achievement stands out, beyond all others, from its very magnitude. When we come to look for the "banner town" however, it requires a good deal of figuring—for a vast many towns have made great gains in proportion to their votes. Without going out of Penobscot county, we find several gains over 50 per cent. Veazie has gained 74 on a vote of 148—being just 50 per cent.; Orono gained 222 on a vote of 429—being 52 per cent.; Hermon gained 135 on a vote of 225—being 60 per cent.; Five Islands gained 18 on a vote of 24—being 76 per cent.; and Dixmont gained 203 on a vote of 260—being 80 per cent!

Hon. Ephraim Marsh of New Jersey, who presided over the convention which nominated Mr. Fillmore in February last, has formerly given in his adhesion to Mr. Fremont upon the ground that the contest lies entirely between the latter and Mr. Buchanan, and that he is unwilling to become a party to the extension of slavery.

Dates from Kansas to the 10th state that three state prisoners had been released on bail, and the day was celebrated as a jubilee in Lawrence, where a fort capable of holding 1000 men had just been finished. Gov. Geary had issued a proclamation commanding all armed men to disperse.

The Disunion Humbug. In alluding to the fact that the Baltimore Patriot and many other Southern papers are sternly rebuking the idea that the South will secede if Fremont is elected, the Portland Advertiser well says that the fire-eaters of that section will not make much progress in dissolving the Union while its own papers speak thus. The slave oligarchy dare not attempt to dissolve the Union; it would not if it could, and it could not if it would—one of the very best effects of Fremont's election will be the complete explosion of this disunion humbug. It would give the people of the South a fair opportunity to vindicate their rights and opinions in opposition to the despotic rule which the oligarchy has succeeded in fastening upon them. There are many, many thousands in the slaveholding States who are anxiously wishing for Fremont's election who do not now dare to say so. But his success will produce a change at the South even more marked than at the North. It will dispel a sort of moral and political miasma which had settled down upon the country, on the slavery question like morning dew before the sun, and we shall again look at the subject in the clear light of truth.

The Vote for Patten. Mr. Patten the straight Whig candidate for Governor receives something over 6000 votes out of a total of 110,000—an actual Straightout loss of 4000 votes from last year, while the whole vote of the State is increased. But small as the Patten vote is, it is nevertheless not all a straightout vote.— One or two thousand at least of the votes for Patten were thrown by democrats, in order to make the straightout vote look respectable, and bolster up the concern a little longer if possible. The State of Maine says, "very many of the democrats voted for Patten, hoping thereby to give him a fair vote, and in the belief that there would be no choice by the people, to secure his election as Governor and that of Gov. Wells as U. S. Senator." This was the game as distinctly and openly talked of by many democrats. We know quite a number who avow that they voted for Patten, under that idea.

Penmanship and Bookkeeping. Our readers will notice the advertisement of Fessenden's Writing Academy at No. 78 Main street. We have examined the work of quite a number of Mr. Fessenden's pupils, and observe, (what is the best recommendation that any teacher can have) a marked and uniform improvement manifested. Some of the books show a wonderful progression, all of them indicate good instruction.

Have you heard Harrington, the Illusionist and Ventriloquist? If not, go to-night and listen to such an entertainment as you have never yet enjoyed. This celebrated performer is an old favorite with the Bangor people, and deservedly so, as he is probably the best ventriloquist of the day, and a man, withal, of the most genial disposition and pleasant humor.

Juvenile Singing School. We call attention to the advertisement of Mrs. Bradley in this paper. She proposes to open a class for Juveniles at the Library Room of the Unitarian Church on Wednesday afternoon next. She is a successful teacher.

"Still They Come." New York, Sept. 16. Hon. Bayard Clarke, present Know Nothing member of Congress from the Ninth District, in this State, publishes a letter this morning, declaring himself for Fremont.

Try Again! One of the Boston Post's compositors makes "betrayed self-satisfaction," out of "cat-eyed self-satisfaction," while the latter phrase was originally applied to the Delphic neighbor of the Atlas. Better luck next time, Colonel.

Ballou's Dollar Monthly.—Our attention has been called to this remarkably cheap and excellent Magazine, and we are ready to exclaim, with every one who has seen it, in surprise at the marvellously cheap rate at which it is furnished— How one hundred pages a month of closely printed original matter, containing tales, sketches, biographies, news, wit and humor, upon fine and beautiful paper, can be afforded for One Dollar a year, is to us an unsolved riddle. Besides which the Magazine contains in each number two pages of original humorous engravings, of the most laugh-provoking character. Each number is fresh, witty, interesting and instructive, containing not one vulgar word or line, and forming an exceedingly agreeable fireside companion. No wonder it has attained to such a wide spread circulation in every State of the Union! We advise our readers to enclose a dollar to M. M. Ballou, 22 Winter street, Boston, and receive the Dollar Monthly by return of mail.

Correction. The representative elect from the Levant district is Hiram Church, not Hiram Chase as incorrectly reported.

Correspondence of the New York Tribune.

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 16, 1856.

The Hon. John C. Breckenridge came here yesterday. He dined with Mr. Buchanan at Wheatland, and left at half past 3 o'clock for Pittsburgh. He brought the news of the Republican triumph in Maine to the sage of Wheatland. The faces of the Shamocracy are very much elongated to-day. While I am writing, one hundred guns are being fired by the Republicans in honor of the victory in Maine, Vermont and Iowa. Liberty is being proclaimed by the cannon's roar at the home of James Buchanan. To him it is bleak news.

This correspondent says that Lancaster county, the home of James Buchanan, will give 5000 majority for Fremont!

"That shock from Maine, (says another correspondent,) "will be responded to by the old Keystone State in October and November."

Dr. R. Richard Clay, very successful in curing diseases of the throat by introducing the probang into the trachea. All laboring under diseases of that passage should call without delay, as he will be obliged to leave for Cincinnati soon. The Democrat says, "The spirits of departed doctors, the physicians of this city, the clergymen and the ladies, all recommend him in lung cases."—Journal.

Dr. Clay is at the Bangor House. See advertisement.

Nothing at all. The democrats say of the Maine election, "Oh! that is nothing at all." It is nothing to what is coming, gentlemen, you may depend upon that; still it is rather a specimen for a beginning.

Experience is a dear school, but—the Bath Tribune just begins to apprehend the "greasy mechanics."—Portland Advertiser.

Letter from a Kansas Woman.

As giving some indication of the way things have been recently carried on in Kansas, we copy from the Freeport (Ill.) Journal some portions of a letter from Mrs. T. Sutherland, to her sister in Freeport. It is dated, "Lawrence, K. T., Aug. 29."

Dear Sister, if you only knew one half of the abuses and outrages perpetrated upon our people here, it would make the blood run cold in your veins.

There is a pro-slavery man by the name of McGee, who lives between Westport and Kansas City. One day this week a free state man was down there after provisions, and had his team taken from him and driven into McGee's yard and unyoked, and then he was scalped! I do not know whether he was wounded any other way or not. He is still living.

STILL ANOTHER SCALP.

Yesterday a brother-in-law of Mrs. Nute, the wife of the Unitarian minister, was shot and scalped between here and Leavenworth. He has just come to Leavenworth and rented a house, and hired a horse and buggy and came over here to visit their friends before they went to housekeeping. Yesterday he was taking the horse and buggy home, and was murdered.

CAPT. SHOMBRIA DEAD.

Capt. Shombria, of the Indiana Company, who was wounded on Saturday, died Sunday night! His friends all say he was a noble man. He had no family. He was a pious man, and just before he died, he said, send word to his friends in Indiana, that he gave his life a willing sacrifice on the altar of Liberty.

I am afraid we shall be compelled to fight, that it will take a strong force to conquer us now. It is reported that they are gathering on the border. Send us all the men you can. Gov. Geary has not yet arrived. Shannon has left the territory in disguise.

ATCHISON MAKES THREATS.

I heard to-day that Atchison of Mo., says he intends to march up with 800 men, and commence at Franklin and cut the throats of every Abolitionist, man, woman and child, in the territory. Our men would laugh at the idea, however, of his coming with that number of men, for we can raise more than twice that number now in a few hours. I hardly think they will come, but perhaps they will.

Now, Mary, see what you can do—you and your mother—for a noble and persecuted man in Kansas who has spent all his time and means for the good of his country. Oh, if the people in the States could only that is truth of the outrages and sufferings here, they could not stand quietly and look on.

But I could not write you all I want to tell you in a whole week, so I might just as well stop now. Good night.

T. SUTHERLAND.

Battle of Osawattomie.

From the Evening Post Sept. 16.

The following is a letter addressed by one of the residents of Osawatomie, in Kansas, after the sacking of that place, to his father and mother in this city. We retain the name of the writer, as he is well known to many here, and his signature will give authenticity and credit to his narrative:

Osawatamie, Sept. 5, 1856.

"Dear Parents: Our mail has been intercepted by the Missourians for more than three weeks, so that it has been impossible to send out any letters whatever. Only once in that time have we received any mail, which was on the evening of Friday last. At the same time the carrier brought the news that a large number, 1,500, had gone from Missouri toward Lawrence, and that two or three companies were still upon the border, intending, as was supposed, to attack us. Next morning, before breakfast, a messenger rode into town stating that one of our men had been killed, by the scouts. Our little force, not exceeding forty, was immediately rallied. The companies from Lawrence which had been with us, and the Potawatamie men had gone to their own homes, having been on extra duty, and no immediate danger was apprehended after the party on Middle Creek had been routed.

"The enemy formed in line of battle within sight of the town, and as they approached we took our position in the bush skirting the Osage Creek, with a small ford in our rear, and the occupied portion of the town partly in front of us. As the enemy advanced they made a quarter turn and came upon the road, their right wing extending to the town.

"We immediately commenced firing upon them, and at the second volley they broke, but soon rallied, and dismounting, returned to the combat. Presently a cannon shot was heard and at the next moment the grape came rattling through the bush.

"In the meantime, a detachment was sent to turn our right flank—then came another shot from their cannon, and another and another, without [illegible]. Then they began to charge upon us, and when they pushed us too close, our men retired to the ford in our rear. In the meantime the flanking party had reached a point quite near the ford, and poured a continual fire upon it. Eight of us seeing this, plunged in below and down river, they firing at us the whole time. I should judge six or eight bullets struck the water near my head. Through the good Providence of God I escaped unscathed, but had to cut my rifle stock. Others of our party retreated down the river and crossed at the lower edge of the town.

"As fast as we crossed, we secreted ourselves in the bush, thinking they would pursue us and come to the woods. Most of us lay hid all day. They left town as soon as they had plundered and burned our town, including both stores, and all the mills that had arrived the night before, (three bags full), which by the way they came, leaving us in a most deplorable situation. Many have lost every thing they had excepting the clothes they wear. We are also without provisions and know not how to get any. As yet we get no news from Lawrence. Providentially our hall (Fremont Hall) escaped their destructive hands, and my little all was saved. Our loss is five wounded and two or three missing. We fear they have been killed in the water and sunk. One man was found to-day shot in that way. They also took one man and a boy prisoners. Their loss is estimated by some at eighty—by most at about twenty.

"They stated their whole number to be 404, and 320 were counted on their return. I am satisfied they lost more men than we. Reports are current that they are intending to come upon us again to-morrow. What it means I cannot tell. We are in no condition to repel any considerable force.

"I had prepared a letter the day before the battle, and gave it to a man to take to Lawrence, but he was killed by the enemy's scouts, and I suppose they have the letter.

"This I expect to send by a family who leave to-morrow without Indian. Good-bye! Henceforth I belong to the Kansas army.

"Your affectionate son,
"BARTOW DARRACH.

"P. S.—I received a letter from Bella by our last mail, and found the fragments of another in the road, after the battle, with the signatures of father and mother, and some of sister's handwriting.
B. D."

Astounded!—The Maine election leaves the Buchanan and Fillmore men staring each other, with mutual astonishment in the face. The former knew that the back bone of the Democracy was broken, but they confidently hoped to make good that loss by the coalition with the Strait Whigs. The possibility that both parties united were to be beaten out of sight, never occurred to either.

The Administration, with its corps of Custom-House Officers, and its ablest speakers, including Messrs. Cony, Orr, &c., and an abundance of material aid, seconded by Evans, Winthrop, Choate, Fletcher Webster, and such Whigs as followed them, exerted every faculty and resorted to the last expedient. And yet Republicans carried the State by an avalanche perfectly overwhelming.

This lesson, useful in many respects, will teach recreant Whig leaders—men whom the People generously trusted and cherished—how impotent and powerless they are for evil—how little they amount to when proved unfaithful?

In the South, Whig Senators and Representatives may desert with impunity, because there Slavery is paramount; but Northern Statesmen who betray Freedom do it at their peril.

But one element enters into the existing struggle for President. It is a simple question of Slavery Extension. This is so plain that those who run may read.—Albany Journal.

Rain.—Many years ago a bet was made by a distinguished Virginian, with an English Lord, of £1 a year, to increase in geometrical progression for the next succeeding twenty years, that it would rain in the county of Chesterfield, Va., his place of residence, on the first Saturday of August in every year. The result was that he won eighteen times and lost twice! That is, his winning was £523,288, and losing £2.

Sad Casualty—Two Men Killed by the Caving in of a Well.—Yesterday forenoon as William Clark and Patrick McLaughlin were engaged in digging a well on the premises of Mr. Adams on Washington street, the bank suddenly caved in, covering them with ten or twelve feet of sand. Assistance was immediately procured, and the work of excavating the bodies commenced, but owing to the loose nature of the soil, it was some hours before the bodies were reached. One of them was found in a standing position, and the other in a recumbent posture, both perfectly lifeless.—Portland Advertiser.

The Scientific Congress.

We continue our extracts from the doings of the American Association for the Advancement of Science recently in session at Albany.

SECTION OF ZOOLOGY AND ETHNOLOGY.

Dr. Gibbon in the chair.

Mr. Schoolcraft concluded his paper on the Structure of the Algonquin Language.

Mr. Daniel Wilson, of Canada, made some remarks on human instinct, going to show that the similarity which had been noted between the American Indians and some European nations did not necessarily imply an actual intercourse.

Mr. A. C. Hamlin, after some discussion on the last named paper, read his Considerations on the evidences of the early voyages of the Scandinavians to this country, and upon the Cimbrical Myths supposed to relate to America.

He said:—I have drawn several of our disputed archaeological problems upon the blackboard, and I will venture to make a few casual and haphazard remarks, and hope to excite some discussion in this section upon these antiquities. That which relates to the Scandinavian question is enveloped in the real northern mist; but still the obscurities which invest certain portions of the narrative, as in other ancient writings, subsequent disquisitions and discoveries may serve to clear away. I will not dwell upon the authorities of Jonas Arngrim, nor of Torfaeus, nor upon the records of the Codex Flateyensis, or the numerous Sagas, but treat at once of the probabilities and the possibilities. It is not even improbable that those bold sea rovers who ravaged France, who attacked the triumphant Moors in Seville, and who dared even to assault the Roman power almost within the very shadow of Rome itself—it is not at all improbable, I say, that they sailed down through the mists of the West in search of those lands which Eric the Red had intimated to them. They made, it is certain, long voyages in their frail galleys—they sailed even to Africa and the Bosphorus—they sailed to Spain, far from the sight of land, without compass and without guides, save the stars and the promptings of their own fearless hearts.— Why not, then, believe that they could make those questioned voyages to North America.— Their ships were large enough to cross the broadest ocean, and it is now known that small boats have made long voyages—for instance, the voyage of Lago de Bote, from the East Indies to Portugal, in a "pattamar," a small boat of 16½ feet only in length. Moreover, not long ago a boat of four tons crossed the Atlantic and achieved the American triumph in a harbor of the Old World. I will not speak of the multiplicity of relations established in the Sagas which have been found to be true, nor of the evidences in Greenland and in Baffin's Bay. But I will call your attention at once to the petrograph of Dighton rock, a part of which is thought to be Scandinavian, and I will invite your discussion upon it in a few moments. I have also drawn a copy of an inscription from a stone found in Virginia, which several eminent antiquarians have believed to be Keltiberian.

We have been taught, I believe, that the Kelts were never navigators; but it is known the mariners of the Mediterranean frequented the sea and there were other nautical clans which occupied the [illegible] shores and the adjacent coasts of Spain. This inscription almost positively evidence that Kelts came to this country. It was found in a mound. But some writers say the Kelts never built mounds. They also state that the agriculture of the mound builders was of domestic origin, and consequently they could not have been built by the Kelts. This argument is not convincing, for it is known that the Kelts, both in Italy and in Britain were possessed of the knowledge before their husbandry was acquainted with any of the cereals, and Greek and Latin classics relate the travels of Ceres and the legends of Triptolemus, as well as Western poets relate the introduction of cereals into Britain. I do not dare to advocate at this moment the Keltic claims as the mound builders of the West, but I wish to correct this relative view. I have drawn also Round Tower at Newport, and propose it for discussion. The study of the nautical myths of the ancient nations of the Old World is very interesting, and their collection and the views of the ancient geographers would form some pleasing and startling pages. There is a singular unity of tradition in relation to lands far away in the western main, between the Keltic Ireland and the blessed isles of the western shores of Europe, and even those of Africa, and they conform with accounts woven into Oriental mythology, like the Chandra Dwip, or Sacred Isle of the West of the Hindoo, which the [illegible] placed in the Western ocean, the insular paradise of the Egyptian, whence Plato derived his Atlantis. It has been believed by some that even in the early times our meridian coasts and islands were visited by nations from the Mediterranean. But those who seek to find vestiges of the reasoning and the skill of the Latin and Hellenic nations in the inscriptions of the Gauls, or in those relics resembling the Etruscan and the Grecian, will find but little known history whereon to base their hypotheses. The discoveries and voyages of the Phoenicians and Carthaginians were concealed from the rest of the world through selfish policy, and it is only from a scattered phrase, a rusty coin or defaced inscription that we trace the long and distant voyages of these maritime Powers. Moreover, we shall glean from archaeology alone, if we believe Strabo, for he says that they even wrecked their vessels when they believed themselves followed—for which act of devotion the pilots were rewarded by their country. History has preserved no account of the maritime discoveries and long expeditions of the ancients, and the early writers afford us nothing but the most distant conjecture from the simple observation of Lucretius—multa addita navigiis sunt multa—to the bold prophecy of Seneca. Whether this prophecy of the Medea arose from a lost gleam of Grecian literature, or from a mere maritime rumor, refers more to our fancies than to our historical knowledge; but, is marvellous with the antiquary when he considers how prone was the Stoic philosopher to cast his fancies into the future, and when he calls to mind the singular prediction in Consol. ad Marciam, concerning the destruction of the world by fire, and also his views in his "Quaest. Natural" of a future deluge.— There is more serious reflection offered in the conjecture of Strabo; but I will not longer dwell upon these points but will only halt to show by a few quotations, that the watery main lying beyond the pillars of Hercules was enveloped with all the gloom and the terrors superstition could bestow. Pindar repeats many times the impossibility of navigation beyond Gades, and we may infer that even Aristotle held the same views of the Atlantic—the mare tenebrosum of the Arabian geographer, the mare mortuum of the times of Ortelius. Tacitus himself says that in his day it was rare that any navigator dare set his sails towards the ocean, which seemed to declare war to whoever approached. But I will not dwell longer upon this subject, save to make one quotation more. Florus, who wrote in the time of Trajan, mentions with great seriousness that Decimus Brutus, after vanquishing the nations of Lusitania and Gallatia and passing the famous Oblivion down to the shores of the ocean, did not halt his victorious columns until they saw with affright the sun precipitate itself into the sea and extinguish its fires in the waves, upon which the army fled believing that they had offended the gods. There is a distant evidence of Phoenician visitation in early times to our meridional islands or coasts. The last Phoenician fleeing before the Persian conquest, sought to preserve his independence in distant and unknown lands. History tells us of the flourishing Marseilles the colonies of Dianium and Emporias in Spain, but all beyond is darkness. Perhaps some daring, despairing fleet steered boldly out into the immeasurably dark sea and were swept swiftly over its broad extent by some providential storm to those lands where now a few fragmentary relics seem to attest the visitation of the departed and mysterious Ionian.

After some discussion the section adjourned.

Upon this article the Herald remarks as follows:

Dr. Hamlin, of Maine, read another paper on the Scandinavians, which was interesting and instructive. You have laid it before your readers. There is nothing, I think, which ought to excite more interest in connection with American archaeology than these confused traces of events, so nearly hidden by the dark waves of time. No one who has read Longfellow's "Speak, speak, thou fearful guest!" can fail to be struck with them, and desire to know more, if more can be discovered. A compliment is due to Dr. Hamlin for the light he has thrown on the subject. He is a young man of great promise.

GEOLOGICAL SECTION.

Fossil Whales.

Dr. Hamlin, of Maine, presented some remains of fossil cetacea, with the following remarks:

I have the pleasure of presenting to the notice of the section some casts of a cetacean, which were discovered more than a year ago, upon the banks of the Penobscot, in the city of Bangor. They were found in a post pliocene deposit, forty-seven feet below the surface of the earth, and about eighty miles distant from the open sea. As they lay in the clay, the [illegible] observed that indication towards the north which has been before observed by naturalists, especially by M. Cortesi, in his discoveries in Italy. In many respects this cetacean resembles very closely one described by Prof. Eschricht, and before venturing upon a report, I have thought proper to communicate with him. I would also present to your notice some vertebrae from North Carolina, some from Maryland, and also three cetotolites from the latter State, one of which I think to be identical with one described by Owen. These fossils are found in tertiary and diluvial deposits, and often in such fragments as to render an exact determination very difficult. Very little has been written upon this subject. Nearly all that has been done is by Cuvier, but Prof. Eschricht, of Copenhagen, promises to supply the deficiency.

Gov. Reeder's reasons for quitting the Sham-Democracy.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18th.

Governor Reeder publishes a letter in the Evening Post to-day, giving his reasons for quitting the Democratic party and supporting Col. Fremont. After referring to his close personal and political intimacy with Mr. Buchanan, and his own labors for a quarter of a century in the ranks of the Democratic party, he says—"These ties are exceedingly strong and hard to sever, especially with one who is naturally of a conservative cast and slow to change old habits of thought and action; and I have resisted for many months convictions that were urging me to my present determination. I have diligently sought reasons and arguments to save myself the pain of breaking up old associations and riding away from my old friends, but all in vain; my love of country and hatred of oppression would not allow my feelings and inclinations either to delude my judgment or to still my conscience, and I am compelled to forfeit my self-respect by committing what I believe to be palpably wrong, or else to enrol myself in opposition to the Democratic party."

He then reviews the Kansas troubles, and defines the policy which Mr. Buchanan must, [illegible], hold toward that Territory, and concludes as follows:—

"Should Mr. Buchanan be elected, and his administration be different from what my judgment compels me to believe, I shall give it my cordial approbation and my feeble though willing support. As I now view it, I must regard the Democratic party as fully committed to Southern sectional views, towards which, for some time past, it has been rapidly tending; and I feel well assured that my duty to my country demands at my hands this sacrifice of personal feelings."

Mr. Buchanan in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, 18th.

The New York Union Democratic Club, at present on a visit to this city, this afternoon, on learning that Mr. Buchanan had arrived here, visited the Merchants' Hotel, accompanied by the Keystone Club. At first an excuse was made for a non-appearance of Mr. Buchanan, who was much fatigued from travel; but he finally made his appearance, in compliance to the vociferous cheers with which he was greeted, and briefly returned his thanks for the honor and good feeling exhibited, and said he would like to make them a speech, but as he was now the candidate of the great Democratic party, political etiquette commanded him to be silent. The visitors did not tarry well with loud and enthusiastic cheers.

Relief for Kansas.

MILWAUKIE, Sept. 15.

A Relief party left here to-day for Kansas. They go out under Prof. Daniels of the National Commission. They will take out clothing and other articles for the relief of the citizens of Kansas.

There are further developments with regard to the great swindle at Madison, by the late accounts of the State. The Committee say the total [illegible] the state cannot be less than $2,000,000.

The Baltimore Convention, &c.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 18.

The Convention adjourned to-day [illegible] [illegible] and enthusiastic cheers for Fillmore and Donelson.

There have been extensive preparations for to-night's Ratification Meeting to-night in Monument Square. A spacious platform, sufficient for the accommodation of the whole Convention, has been erected in front of the Court House. Six lofty Doric columns support immense transparencies on the front, surmounted by a spread eagle, bearing the names of the candidates beneath the Federal coat of arms, surrounded by the coat of arms of the different States, in circular rows. The cornice bears the inscriptions—"the Constitution—the Union of the States and States of the Union—Liberty Republic—the whole splendidly decorated with tasteful drapery and illuminated by [illegible]. The Speaker's stand is illuminated by an elegant chandelier with the portrait of Fillmore in the rear. Altogether it is the most brilliant display of the kind ever witnessed in Baltimore.

Various Matters.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.

Joseph T. Coleman, President of the San Francisco Vigilance Committee, was arrested yesterday, on complaint of James Maloney, charged with being instrumental in expelling him from San Francisco. Coleman was held in $[illegible] bail.

PORTLAND, Sept. 18.

Unless afflicted with ILL HEALTH, or if interested in some sick person whom you want to have healed of their diseases, then

READ THIS!

PROF. H. S. ALDISON,

OF BOSTON,

WHOSE fame as a Natural Medical Examiner and Physician, has extended throughout the entire Middle and Eastern States, is now stopping at the

BANGOR HOUSE..........BANGOR, ME.,

Where, for a FEW DAYS ONLY, he can be consulted

FREE OF CHARGE,

On all diseases incident to the human family, from 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Prof. A. confines himself more especially to the treatment of Pulmonic Diseases and Diseases of the Blood, of every form; having had over fifteen years experience as a physician, and possessing the ability to state minutely and accurately all the diseases of patients, by simply holding the hand, and without asking a question;—also, to administer with the same accuracy and success the proper remedies for the diseases he treats, renders this one of the most favorable opportunities ever afforded the afflicted of this place to obtain a certain cure in all curable cases. Prof. A. does not promise a cure in every case—some cases are beyond the power of human skill. He frankly states to every patient their true condition; then if they wish medical treatment, he furnishes it; but in no case urges patients to take his medicines. His medicines are vegetable, and are pleasant to take.

Many say that they would call if Prof. A. was to be a resident Physician. That should not be an objection if a man can cure. He makes but one prescription if the patient takes a full course of it.

Catarrh, Asthma, Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Bronchitis, Costiveness, Cancerous Affections, Tumors, Diseases of the Kidneys, Coughs, Colds, Diseases tending to Consumption, General Debility, Dyspepsia, Erysipelas, Sick-Headache, Indigestion, Jaundice, Loss of Appetite, Liver Complaint, Nervous Affection, Piles, Pain in the Side, Back and Shoulders, Rheumatism, Scrofula, Complaints peculiar to Females, and all Diseases originating in Impurities of the Blood.

☞ Neither the call or consultation will cost you any thing; but life, comfort, and all the attending blessings of good health, may be preserved thereby. sept18

To the Sick and Afflicted!

DR. & MRS. GREGORIE LAMONT,

THE celebrated Physician for diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Heart and all diseases of the Blood, from 378 Broadway, N. Y., late of London, member of the reformed Medical College, New York, and the first who advocated inhalations for diseases of the Lungs, treat all diseases of the Chest, by the inhalation of Hot Medical Vapors with a success unknown to the physicians of this country, invite the attention of the sick and afflicted, laboring under the various forms of diseases, such as Coughs, Ulcerated or Tuberculous Lungs, spitting of blood, pain in the chest, sides and back, sore throat, bleeding lungs, chronic catarrh, night sweats, nervous complaints, ossification or dropsy of the heart, dyspepsia, liver complaint, chronic diarrhea, and all female complaints such as prolapsus uteri or falling of the womb, and all uterine complaints, such as cancers, tumors, enlargements, suppression of the menses, excessive menstruation, Leucorrhoea or whites, scrofulous affections, spinal deformities, grave, and poisonous inoculations, and all diseases of the blood.

Mrs. Dr. Lamont is the only lady gifted with the power of telling diseases at sight, by looking into the eye, without the patient saying a word to her. She can tell them how they are affected in every particular, and prescribe for their immediate relief and permanent cure of their complaints. They can be consulted for a short time, free of charge, at the

No Charge for an Interview!

Dr. R. RICHARD CLAY,

Demonstrator of Anatomy in the American Medical College, Cincinnati, and formerly editor of the Journal of Health and Medical Rambler. At the earnest solicitation of many of his old friends and patients, will

RETURN TO BANGOR ON

Tuesday, Sept. 9th, 1856,

And can be consulted at Room No. 46, next door to the Ladies' Parlor, Bangor House, for a few days, or, if business requires it, until his departure for the Buckeye State.

DR. CLAY devotes his attention to the diagnosis and treatment of diseases of the respiratory and circulating organs, and the medical and surgical treatment of uterine complaints. His method of operating upon the throat is far superior to that of any other man in New England, and his success truly astonishing. Hundreds can testify to the truth of this statement. There is not one physician in twenty who can perform the operation successfully—an operation which requires the minute knowledge of the anatomical structure of the parts, and the utmost dexterity in performing it. sept4 1f

Worth Reading.

WHEN, by long study and many experiments, a physician has discovered a new principle in medicine, by which pain may be removed and disease cured, more surely and effectively than before, it immediately becomes his duty so to bring it before the public as to give to all an opportunity to profit by his discovery. For this reason the proprietor of the genuine Allied Ointment and Syrup offers his preparation to all who are afflicted with Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Cancerous Humors, Fever Sores, Pimples, and other eruptions, with the assurance that in nearly every case where they have been tried they have effected permanent cures. Every agent can give reference to persons in his vicinity who have been cured by them.

It is gratifying to the proprietor of these medicines to be able to state that it is now nearly three years since they were first introduced, during which time they have been extensively used in various parts of the United States, and have given to patient and practitioner the highest degree of satisfaction in the various cases in which they have been employed; whether in town, country, hospital, or private practice, they have invariably given the most decided and unequivocal satisfaction, and produced the most salutary and beneficial effects. Numerous letters have been received from the most distinguished physicians in the country, and from the professors of several medical colleges, recommending in the highest terms the value of these medicines and their superiority over all other preparations for such complaints as the proprietor recommends. Numerous preparations of Sarsaparilla and Buchu, and various modes of preparing them have been given, all of which of course will differ according to the mode of preparation which each individual may adopt.

These medicines require considerable care in the preparation, and the employment of different menstrua in successive operations to take up the extractive matters, and in consequence, are most frequently improperly made, and not unfrequently, much injured, if not rendered totally inert, by the injudicious and unskillful management of those unacquainted with pharmaceutical preparations. It is, therefore, of the highest consideration and importance to the public, and to the faculty, that the standard preparation of uniform strength and possessing the most advantages. To effect this and obviate the evils alluded to, having made a number of experiments to ascertain the most effectual mode of extracting the virtues of the Sarsaparilla and the Buchu, and to discover the most eligible form for their exhibition. Professor Humphrey's

SPECIFIC

Homœopathic Medicines,

Families, Travelers, and others.

THESE Medicines have been carefully prepared, with a view of supplying families and others with Specific Remedies against all the more common diseases which occur in every day life. The list includes not only remedies for all the more common diseases, such as Coughs, Colds, Headaches, Derangements of the Stomach, Fever, Worm Complaints, Diarrhoea, &c., but also for the more sudden and violent diseases which require to be met on the spur of the moment, such as Cramps, Cholera, Dysentery, Inflammation, &c., for whose treatment it is very important always to have the proper remedies on hand. There are also remedies for those more delicate Female derangements which a lady finds it so difficult to disclose, but yet a freedom from which contributes so much to the happiness and enjoyment of life.

These Medicines are prepared in the form of large Sugar Pellets, one of which is sufficient for the largest dose, and put up in boxes properly labelled. Each box contains 30 or 40 Pellets, and 15 boxes, for the different kinds, are enclosed in a case, accompanied with a small Manual or Book of Directions, giving a concise description of the diseases treated, and directions for giving the medicines, diet, &c., necessary for a cure. Cases, also, containing four or six of the small boxes, are put up, which may be supplied with any of the different kinds at the option of the purchaser.

The advantages of Specific Homœopathic Medicines—In prescribing other Homœopathic Medicines a dozen or twenty will be recommended for a cough, a headache, diarrhoea, or fever; and much care, study, and discrimination is required to select the proper ones. But here you have a Specific Remedy for each particular disease, and hence are able to use them with benefit and precision without that labor and study which the business man is totally able to bestow, and without that research and examination which, to the mother, nurse, or invalid, is so perplexing, annoying, and unsatisfactory. The advantages are so obvious as to commend them to all.
